

Flamborough Centre Parent Engagement Night 2019

SOCIAL MEDIA AND OUR CHILDREN

by Police Constable Melissa Drozdz (Hamilton Police)

Flamborough Centre School's Library
922 Centre Road, Waterdown

Thursday, April 25, 2019
6:30pm to 8:00pm

Complimentary childcare will be available.

The Jitterbug will be on site to offer complimentary coffee, tea, water and baked goods.

All attendees will receive a complimentary copy of Dr. Claire Edwards' Social Media and Mental Health: Handbook for Parents and Teachers.

Officer Drozdz will be sharing material similar to what she shares with students, but with adult explanations. One of her goals is to make sure parents are aware of current trends and issues that have been problematic in local schools. She will discuss Internet/online safety, bullying, cyberbullying, as well as potential consequences.

Police Constable Melissa Drozdz has been a Police Officer since May 2003. She is currently assigned to Community Services Division 3 and is responsible for most of the grade schools in the Ancaster, Dundas, Flamborough and Waterdown area. She has worked in this position since January 2014, liaising with the administration and community members regarding school concerns. She assists with educating students on the dangers of online activities and bullying, as well as other criminal behaviour and consequences. Through the years, she has spoken on a variety of topics to both parents and students.

Please use the following link to register for the event: <https://flam.parentinterview.com/>. Registration will be open from April 10, 8:00 am until April 23, 2019. Though we greatly appreciate the RSVPs, if you have not registered for the event, you are more than welcome to walk in and join us for the evening.

This Engagement Night is made possible through a Ministry of Education Parents Reaching Out grant awarded to Flamborough Centre School.
