Throughout Pride Month we are talking about all different people and families, and why it's important to be respectful and kind. We know that every family is different. All that matters is that people love each other and want to be together as a family. We want to be respectful of all the different types of families as there are many ways to show love and commitment.

Today is Rainbow Day – it takes many colours to make a rainbow and each is represented here today. Happy Pride!

Next week will be the final week of instruction for the 2021-2022 school year. Please be sure you are taking time to collect up personal belongings, including work that has been on display, to bring them home for the summer. If you need additional bags, please see Mrs. Madley. Please note our building will not be accessible over the summer months.

Yearbooks are being delivered today. They will be distributed to classes for those who pre-ordered. Please put your own name in your yearbook as soon as you receive it.
