CHILD SAFETY & WELL-BEING: A SHARED RESPONSIBILITY

A Dress Purple Day learning session for HWDSB staff

Join us as a speaker from the Children's Aid Society of Hamilton shares insights on how children's aid societies collaborate with communities to support children, youth, and families

Every October, children's aid societies from across the province raise awareness about the rights of children and youth to safety, permanency and well-being, as well as the important role that adults and the community plays in helping children, youth and families in need of support.

Child safety and well-being is a shared community responsibility. Hamilton's children's aid societies rely on the community to contribute in a variety of ways. One of the most important contributions is when members of the community help identify vulnerable children, youth and families to a CAS. This presentation will enhance your knowledge about CAS and discuss ways in which we can work together to support children and families.
