Weekly Update for February 22, 2021

This week's snow day was a reminder that winter is still here! It was great seeing our students enjoy the outdoor weather ... playing with their classmates and building different structures. It was also a good reminder for our students to come prepared for cold outdoor weather- winter clothing and boots are a must. Report cards were home today. It is a good time to review your child's strengths, areas of improvement and set a goal for next term. Devise a plan together and put it into action. School and home communication are important. I would encourage you to contact your child's teacher if you have any questions about their progress and learning.

Report Cards

Report cards have been sent home via School Messenger. The password is the student's birthday (MM/DD/YYYY). A paper copy will be sent home in March 4th.
