

Drama Courses

ADA1O1/2O1 – Students will explore the world of the stage. They will learn in a unique way about themselves, the art of drama, and the world around them. Students engage in social interaction and collaboration as they create, perform, and analyse drama. By communicating in both their real and imagined worlds, students acquire proficiency in listening, speaking, questioning, and problem solving.

Prerequisites: none

ADA3M1 - Students will analyse, interpret, and perform dramatic works from various cultures and time periods. Students will research various acting styles and conventions that could be used in their presentations, and analyse the functions of playwrights, directors, actors, designers, technicians, and audiences.

Prerequisites: ADA1O/2O1

ADA3O1 – For students who want to take a senior level drama, but did not take drama in Grade 9 or 10. Students will interpret and present works in a variety of dramatic forms, create and script original works, and critically analyse the processes involved in producing drama works. Students will develop a variety of skills related to collaboration and the presentation of drama works.

Prerequisites: none

ADA4E1 – For students who want a senior level drama but did not take grade 9 or 10 drama. This course requires students to create, present, and analyse a variety of dramatic works relevant to the workplace. Students will build trust and collaborative skills and develop self-confidence through hands-on experience and project-based learning in drama activities.

Prerequisites: none

ADA4M1 - Students will experiment individually and collaboratively with forms and conventions of both drama and theatre from various cultures and time periods. Students will interpret dramatic literature and other texts and media sources while learning about various theories of directing and acting. Skills developed in drama are related to their personal skills, social awareness, and goals beyond secondary school.
