

Local Author Book Signing and Kickstarter Fundraising

My name is Jenni Danielle. Since I was young, I loved creating worlds and imaginative things. I love coming up with fun stories and drawing and painting. As I grew up, I started doing many things as my creative outlet. After I had my daughter, I even started making up bedtime stories for her. I wanted to bring my silly and loving stories to others and their families, which is what made me want to start this journey.

“Meet you in our Dreams”

THE STORY

"Lets pick a special place for us, shared by just you and me. On the clouds or in a forest. Somewhere we can meet. It'll be our special place on the nights when we're apart. You can give me a great big hug and feel my beating heart"

Whether its a family separation, going away from them for a weeks vacation, or parents travel for work. This book was created to help your children and create a tool to last forever. You and your child can read together the story, and then together create your own dream land where you meet on nights when you are apart.
