About Me!

Is your child not getting enough one on one attention at school? Do they need a little extra support in one subject? Are you worried about them transitioning to high school next year? Tutoring services may be the best option for your child! My name is Ally Mitchell and I am a grade 12 student, currently studying at Hillfield Strathallan College. I am interested in working with students, tutoring them in any number of areas. I have lots of leadership experience, and am currently taking a Junior Teaching Position class at HSC. To book a session or to discuss whether tutoring is the best option for your child please contact me below.
