Dear Wildcats and Wildcat Families,

We hope that you are doing well.

We wanted to clarify any misunderstandings about a HWDSB message that went out yesterday on Twitter and school messenger.

The message around work submission that we have shared with Westmount students, staff and caregivers remains the same:

- All course work is due Friday, January, 22nd
- Student Success days are designated for students working towards carry-over, towards credit attainment, working toward credit recovery or the demonstration of overall expectations that have not yet been demonstrated. Students and teachers have had purposeful conversations in creating a student learning plan to meet goals and determine who is participating in the Student Success Days.
- Any work submission extensions past January 22nd will be negotiated by teacher and student as part of their learning plan with an understanding that these students are participating in the Student Success days.

This message was shared with you prior to the holiday break, the first week back in January via an online message from administration as well as a communication that went home to caregivers and posted on our website. Apologies for any confusion that may have been created. If you have any questions, please feel free to contact the school. Thanks for your understanding.
