

The Women in STEM webinar series introduces young women in high school to career opportunities in STEM. Featuring inspiring speakers, the free webinars are open to educators, students, and parents. We encourage you to share this information with your school and community.

- One-hour webinars take place on November 17 at 7 pm ET and November 21 at 1 pm ET.
- Speakers from industry and academia will share success stories, information, and resources about careers in STEM.
- More details are in the webinar summary.

The Women in STEM webinar series is presented by The Prosperity Project and Ontario Power Generation. Conceived by 63 female visionaries earlier this year, The Prosperity Project is not-for-profit organization that is working to combat the impact of Covid-19 on women and girls in Canada.

Please share this information with educators who teach science, technology, engineering, or mathematics related courses and with your broader school community.
